Genetically Modified (GM) Ingredients: The term genetically modification as currently used does not refer to traditional breeding practices; but does refer to recombinant DNA technology where select specific genes or genetic material is removed from one organism and inserted into another.

Are any genetically modified materials used on site? YES NO

Are any of the materials used in the above ingredient from sources that are genetically modified or thought to be modified? YES NO

If yes, please indicate which material and at what level, if known:

Has genetically modified material been used as processing aides or additives in connection with production of this product or any of the ingredients? YES NO

If this material contains genetically modified materials, can this ingredient be sourced non-GM or GM-free? YES NO N/A

If yes, are there any known pricing implications:

If any of the materials used in the ingredient are from sources that are genetically modified, will the final ingredient test positive for the presence of GM ingredients using PCR analysis? YES NO

Details: _____

If this material contains genetically modified materials, does the processing of the material(s) render the final ingredient non-detectable of GMO with current analytical methods? YES NO N/A

Details: _____

If this material contains genetically modified materials, is it labeled for GMO? YES NO

Please describe: _____

GMO

If GM material is utilized, is there supporting documentation in place that the GM is approved for human consumption? YES NO N/A

Can you adequately demonstrate that you have assessed the risk of potential genetically modified material contamination at your suppliers? YES NO

If this product does NOT currently contain genetically modified materials, are there any plans to include such materials in this product in the near future? YES NO

If yes, please indicate implementation date, which material, and what level, if known:

For meat based products only: Is it known if any feed sources consumed by livestock, whose products may be included in the ingredient, are comprised of genetically modified organisms? YES NO N/A

If yes, please indicate which material and at what level, if known:

Is there an Identity Preservation (IP) program developed for non-GM or GM -free materials? YES NO

If yes, please attach.

Do you have evidence that the Identity Preservation program is adequate? YES NO

Please provide test results. Note: periodic test results will be requested to validate IP program.

If an Identity Preservation program has not been developed for non-GM or GM-free materials, are there plans to develop such a program? YES NO
